

"FAYETTE FLYERS" WILL SOON BE SPEEDING THROUGH REGION.

West Penn Will Inaugurate Service Between Uniontown and Greensburg Next Month.

EXCESS FARE ANTICIPATED.

Four Flyers Each Way and Additional Service Between Uniontown and County Seat Planned—Fast Time Will Be Made by Specials.

Beginning early in December the "Fayette Flyers" will make their initial appearance on the West Penn and with them will be inaugurated an era of trolley operation in Western Pennsylvania long dreamed of but never before realized. Announcement of this was made today.

One hour and 58 minutes between Uniontown and Greensburg, and 15 minutes between Uniontown and Connelville, is called for under the schedule now being arranged. This cuts the running time between the two terminals by 32 minutes, while 15 minutes is saved between this point and the county seat.

Plans for inaugurating the service are now about complete. There will be four express trains each way every day in the week, with an extra car each way between Connelville and Uniontown. To make the fast time required under the new schedule will keep the train crews on the jump every minute. Although it will be necessary for the express cars to make the usual block stops, no passengers will be taken on at these points. Only at the regular stopping points, which will be announced later, can passengers board or leave the cars. It is expected that the "Fayette Flyers," upon leaving Uniontown, will make stops at Mt. Braddock, Dunbar, New Haven, Connelville, Scottdale, Altoona, Tarr, Kutztown, Youngwood and Greensburg.

Following the custom adopted by other trolley roads giving limited service, it is not expected that free transportation will be accepted on the "Fayette Flyers." It is likely that a moderate excess fare will be charged for the improved service. An official of the road stated this morning, the West Penn cannot afford to give through service, entailing delays to the regular cars and having the limited lay over at the terminals for some time after every run and only charging the regular fare. It is not expected that persons of the "Fayette Flyers" will object to the excess fare in view of the improved service. The new tariff schedules have not yet been announced, and have not, in fact, been approved by the high officials of the company.

Rev. Ellis B. Burgess, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, and a historian of note, may leave Connelville for a charge in Somerset. He preached yesterday on the Evangelical Lutheran Church of this place and received a unanimous call to take charge of the church there. The congregation and church board were a unit in pressing upon him the call.

Rev. Burgess has been pastor of the local church since May 30, 1895, and the ties which have bound him to the congregation here are very strong, and for this reason they are not easily broken. The call is being held under further consideration, however, but there is every likelihood of it being accepted.

The officers allege that some of the goods in the car were disturbed, while the boys state that they did not take anything only went into the car to get out of the cold. Magistrate Miller decided that they were both equally guilty and instead of going to Philadelphia they will go to Uniontown to await a court hearing.

NO MORE INTOXICANTS MAY BE TAKEN FROM CLUBS IN COUNTY.

District Attorney Henderson Instructs Organizations on Law. Others to Appear Before Him.

The first delegation of men representing a social club, the steward of the Eagles and members of the House Committee Saturday afternoon called upon District Attorney Davis Henderson, at his request and received their instructions regarding the conduct of a club. Other delegations will present themselves before the District Attorney this week, or within the next ten days to learn how and in what manner they shall conduct their clubs. District Attorney Henderson had no great complaint to make of the Connelville club, but he stated that the law prevented and prohibited members from the highest to the lowest in taking liquor from the rooms, even in cases of sickness, and further he stated that no man that could not purchase intoxicants at a bar room could not do so in a club and warned the members against such a law violation. He stated as an instance that a man in Uniontown belonged to a number of clubs also to some very high fraternal organizations, yet by his family he was forbidden to drink at a hotel bar, and though the clubs from which he traveled in his rounds he was enabled to become drunk. He warned the clubs in general against the habit of drinking who drank with a purpose, to get drunk.

The Connelville aggregation was the first to respond to the summons of the District Attorney, and they were well pleased with the reception and the kindly manner in which they were treated. Mr. Henderson stated that he would not have a great deal to say to the members of the clubs in general, but that some practices, that were without the law would be looked into. He made a slight reference to a Connelville club which allowed the members to take away beer in baskets, and where it was permitted to take in everyone and anyone who came along. This club denies that it has allowed anything to be sold, to be carried away during the past month, but one authority states that the club sells more beer and whiskey than the Elks or Eagles of Elks club, and one hotel in Connelville combined. It is further alleged against the club that it permits outsiders to buy at its bar room and on Sundays. This, however, is denied by the members of the club who allege that they make every effort to conduct it in a proper manner. These clubs will all report to District Attorney Davis Henderson within the next 10 days.

Ed Zimmerman, better known as "Shorty," is in lock again, and a very serious charge has been chafed up against him by Chief of Baltimore & Ohio Detectives P. Moran. On September 15 a case of whiskey, containing 12 bottles of the fiery liquid disappeared from a car in the yards and Saturday afternoon an information was made against Zimmerman. It is alleged that he took a whole case of twelve quarts from a car. After taking as much of the whiskey into his anatomy as he could contain he hurried with it to the old "Sodom" shops, where he distributed it among his friends. There was too much in the layout for all to consume and the officers allege that Zimmerman smashed the balance of it having no way in which to dispose of it. He will be taken to Uniontown for a hearing there as several jail prisoners are wanted as witnesses against him.

CARNEGIE SAYS RICH SHOULD PAY.

Advocates High Duties Upon Luxuries Used by Them.

SPEAKS FREELY ON THE TARIFF

Further Information Becomes Available Concerning Steelmaker's Views. Declines Infant Industries of 1871 Have Attained Full Growth.

New York, Nov. 22.—Further information concerning Andrew Carnegie's article on the tariff in the forthcoming issue of the Century magazine is available today.

Mr. Carnegie's article is entitled, "My Experiences With and Views Upon the Tariff." He first reviews the tariff movements down to the present day, giving a number of anecdotes in which he is figured with the prominent tariff leaders of the various periods. He adds:

"Much water has run under the bridge since then. Many changes have occurred and hence many changes must be judiciously made in the tariff. There is no doubt about this, but, on the other hand, I have been led to the conclusion that conditions have changed so greatly in the interval that the tariff should now be viewed from a new standpoint. The writer assumes that a decided majority of our voters are agreed.

"First—That it is advisable for now countries to encourage capital by protective duties when even to be necessary to develop new industries.

"Second—That after full and exhaustive trials, if success be not finally attained, such protection should cease, except as noted hereunder.

"Third—That should the experiment succeed protection becomes unnecessary and should steadily but gradually be abolished, provided that the home supply of any article absolutely necessary for the national safety shall not thereby be endangered.

Protective Policy Vindicated.

Further on Mr. Carnegie says: "We have already become by far the greatest of all manufacturing nations. Our infant industries of the past have reached maturity and, speaking generally, are now fully able to protect themselves. The pulling infant in the nurse's arms that congress in 1871 nursed so tenderly will appear next year before its guardians as the staid champion who has conquered in many fields, thus proving himself worthy of the protection bestowed upon him in his youth and fully vindicating the protective policy pursued.

"While the tariff as a whole even today has ceased to be primarily beneficial as a measure of protection, it has become of vast importance from the standpoint of revenue, and it is to this feature I bespeak the special attention of readers of all parties, for duties upon, imports, not for protection, but for needed revenue, should not become a party question. Reasonable men of all parties may be expected to approve this plan of obtaining revenue.

After giving tables showing that the bulk of tariff duties are collected on luxuries used by the rich, Mr. Carnegie says:

"Thus does the American tariff, in happy contrast to others, almost exempt the poor and heavily tax the rich. Just as it should, for it is they who have the ability to pay as required by the highest economic authority."

First Duty of Congress.

Mr. Carnegie says of future tariff legislation: "The next congress dealing with the tariff will probably be inclined at first to reduce duties all around and perhaps to abolish some, but its first care should be to maintain present duties, and even in some cases to increase them, upon all articles used almost exclusively by the rich, and this not for protection, but for revenue, not drawn from the workers but from the rich. That is the first and prime duty of congress.

"Its second duty is to reduce duties greatly upon manufactured articles and to abolish entirely those no longer needed.

"The writer has cooperated in making several reductions as steel manufacturers became able to bear reductions. Today they need no protection, unless perhaps in some new specialties unknown to the writer, because steel is now produced cheaper here than anywhere else, notwithstanding the higher wages paid per man. Not a ton of steel is produced in the world as small an outlay for labor as in our country. Our coke, coal and iron ore are much cheaper, because more easily obtained and transported, and our ore output per man is 20 times greater owing chiefly to the large standardized orders obtainable only upon our continent; the specialized rolling mills; machinery kept weeks upon uniform shapes without change of rolls and several other advantages.

There May Be Special Cases. "The writer speaks only of the ordinary articles and forms of steel as being able to stand without protection. He hopes there are today no users in several new lines requiring protection which will be generously given temporarily. The committee should welcome such special cases."

Mr. Carnegie says that several other features of the tariff should be carefully looked into, more particularly illuminating oil, thread and cutlery.

Further Mr. Carnegie says: "The infant we have turned approaches the day when he should be weaned from tariff milk and fed upon the stronger food of free competition. It needs little, if any more, nursing; but the change should not be made abruptly. It is better to err upon the safe side if we err at all, but he is the best of protectionists who corrects all faults as they are revealed and positively declines to subject the nation to protection in any branch where it is not clearly needed, affording protection always with the resolve that it shall be temporary.

No Occasion for Haste. "There is no occasion for haste or for any revolutionary step in coming tariff legislation. It is better to go a little too slow, than a little too fast. In the writer's opinion the revision of the tariff could today safely and advantageously be made a radical one upon the lines suggested, but if congress, in deference to the timid manufacturer, whom we have always with us, thinks it prudent not to disturb his dreams unduly, and only halves present duties on some articles and abolishes them entirely upon others—always provided it guards zealously the present duties upon the luxuries of the rich for revenue—the writer will be thankful and philosophic as usual, because one step in the right direction will have been taken and he knows the final step must come before long, the sooner the better.

Publications for Coal, Oil and Gasmen.

Recently issued by the West Virginia State Geological Survey—How and Where They Can Be Had.

New coal, oil, gas and limestone map of West Virginia issued under date of August 31, 1908, showing in separate colors the coal formations, and also the limestone areas of the State. The principal anticlinal lines, as well as the developed oil and gas fields are also indicated by appropriate symbols. The topographic base of this map is entirely new and more accurate than that of any map of West Virginia heretofore published, having been reduced from the topographic sheets of the United States Geological Survey. Also the location, name, and position of every county seat, town, village, and hamlet, and every railroad or river is printed by counties on the map which is larger than previous issues, being published on a scale of 7 miles to the inch. Price, either folded or rolled, postage paid by the Survey, 50 cents when ordered separately, but in combination, see below.

Supplementary coal report, volume 1 (a), over 700 pages, issued under date of September 15, 1908, with map showing location of bore-holes, the records of which are given in the text. This supplementary coal report does not cover much more space than did the older Volume 2 to the region southwest from the great Kanawha and New Rivers, containing more elaborate tables of chemical analyses, both proximate and ultimate than ever heretofore attempted in any State Geological Survey report. The revised correlation of the coal of the Kanawha series is also given in full, together with corrections of the errors made in the correlations attempted in Volume 2. Published only in cloth binding, price paid by the Survey. For other combinations at reduced price for all the other Survey Publications, (Volume 1 Petroleum and Natural Gas, Volume 2 on Coal, Volume 3 on Clays, Limestones and Cements and the Detailed County Report on Ohio, Brooke and Hancock counties with its Atlas of Topographic, Geologic and Soil Maps), write the office of the State Geological Survey, P. ## MEET IN DENVER TODAY.

Representatives of Over One Million Workmen in Conference.

Denver, Col., Nov. 23.—Two national labor bodies, adjuncts to the American Federation of Labor, convened in Denver today. These two organizations represent more than a million men, the building trades and the railroad employees departments, the latter an organization of 600,000 men formed in Denver last Saturday. The building trades department represents about 600,000 men, and the railroad men were called in order by President James Kirby of Chicago, a leader in the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, called the railway employees together and P. J. Flannery of Chicago, president of the International Freight Handlers, was secretary.

The building trades department of the federation has been in existence about a year, but the branching out of the railway employees is a new venture that has for its purpose the organization of every shop and track on the country.

The leaders hope to procure the cooperation and eventually the affiliation of the trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen and thus make the railway employees organization the most powerful of its kind in the world.

Denver, Col., Nov. 23.—The election of officers of the American Federation of Labor resulted in the election of all the former officers with the exception of Daniel J. Keefe, eighth vice president who in the late election antagonized the political policy of President Samuel Gompers and the executive council.

No Wonder He's Weary. Covington, Ky., Nov. 23.—Alorus Sembringer, a fifteen-year-old boy, who has been missing from his home since he was taken from his home last summer, has been found. He was ambitious to become a great actor, but has abandoned the idea.

The First Thanksgiving Day

In 1621 after the gathering of the first crops in the Plymouth Colony, Governor Bradford sent four men out fouling that they "might, after a fitting manner rejoice together." This was the beginning. The first day set aside in the new continent for the purpose of returning thanks to God for the blessings bestowed upon that devoted little band of Pilgrims. It has become a fixed custom to set aside a day of Thanksgiving beginning with the times of the rebellion and continuing to the present. It is the principle social and home festival day of the American people, a day that recalls to every citizen the dependence of the human race upon the mercies of an omnipotent power.

It is a day to forget worldly things and to turn to our minds always and it is well that our government takes this decisive means of bringing before us the fact that our efforts can only prove successful and all we may accomplish is due alone to goodness and help of God. In observance of this day our store will remain closed Thursday, November 26.
